

Domenico Nesci – CV

Domenico is Co-Founder and currently Managing Director of Deep Ocean Capital SGR. He is Partner of its first Venture Capital fund, Deep Blue Ventures. Deep Blue Ventures is a deep tech early stage fund, vintage May 2023, and has finalised 13 investments so far. Domenico has matured a broad range of experiences in management and entrepreneurship. He spent approximately 15 years in the Telecommunications industry, most of them in the mobile business, as manager, up to Vice President level, and later, as entrepreneur. He served in his capacity in different type of entities in the telco industry, ie. carriers, manufacturers and, lately, software companies. In year 2000 he exited his own company to Openwave System Inc., US tech company listed at NASDAQ. After it, Domenico worked 10+ years in Customer Management and Customer Operations Outsourcing (BPO) as entrepreneur. As investor, Domenico started early 2011 as angel investor in Italian Angels for Growth (IAG), where he made a few investments, leading the investors' club for one of them and achieving one exit. Since 2014, he has been Partner of LVenture Group, a seed Venture Capital firm based in Rome. In his position, he advised portfolio companies to accelerate their growth path – in some cases sitting in their BoD, and set up a business angels group (Angel Partner Group). Domenico is member of the Society of Kauffman Fellows and European Innovation Council jury member. He has been contract professor of Venture Capital and Valuation at LUMSA University for 3 years. Domenico graduated in Electronic Engineering and has successfully achieved an MBA degree.
